

Participant Directed Services Orientation Sessions for Direct Care Workers

Starting December 1, 2018

All new direct care workers (DCWs) must complete an orientation session before they can start working. This orientation session will last 3.5 hours and will help DCWs understand how Participant Directed Services work by giving information about the following topics:

Topics:

- ✓ Participant Directed Services
- ✓ Workers' Rights & Responsibilities
- ✓ Program Rules & Processes
- ✓ Enrollment Paperwork
- ✓ ...& much more.

Harrisburg, PA 17110

Important to Know:

The orientation sessions will be free of charge. Only workers who start enrollment or re-enrollment after November 30, 2018 have to attend an orientation session.

Public Partnerships will explain to workers how to sign up for an orientation session when they start the enrollment process. Information will also be included in new enrollment documents.

Workers will only have to do an orientation session one time.

Workers will be paid for completing the orientation session after all new hire paperwork and other requirements are finished.
